Shifting Perspective: From Research “on” to Research “with” the Autistic Community

6.2.19 Wednesday 10:00-12:00
The Hebrew University, Mount Scopus Campus, School of Social Work, Room 365

Critical Models of Disability in the Autistic Community

(Lecture in Hebrew)

Dr. Sola Shelly

Sola Shelly has been involved in the international autistic community since its beginning and is one of the founders of ACI - Activists of the Autistic Community in Israel. Sola participates in various forums for the rights of people with disabilities and for critical disability studies, particularly in autism.

A Shared Endeavor: Taking a Participatory Approach to Autism Research

(Lecture in English)

Dr. Anna Remington

Dr. Remington is Associate Professor and Director of the UCL Centre for Research in Autism and Education (CRAE). Her work focuses on superior abilities in autism, specifically with respect to attention and perception within the condition, and how these might translate into practical benefits such as employment success.
